“Short hair is for the woman who is confident in her style and in herself,” says Yves Durif, whose boutique salon at New York City’s Carlyle Hotel is decorated with original photographs of iconic cropped-hair beauties Twiggy and Edie Sedgwick.

Durif, who uses Profound Beauty products exclusively on his loyal clientele of socialites, stars and international influencers swears by Structure Pearl Finish pomade whose unique formulation lends a sophisticated, flexible finish with luminous shine.

For extra definition and hold, he mixes the pomade together with a bit of Structure Design Paste!

Can any woman have short hair, you ask? “Yes,” says Yves, “it is a matter of finding the shape that’s right for you.”
